PROGRAM: Our keynote speaker will be Roy Diblik. Roy is a designer and nurseryman best known for supplying the extraordinary perennials—around 26,000 plants in all—for Dutch designer Piet Oudolf's inspiring Lurie Garden at Millennium Park in downtown Chicago. Roy actually grew many of the plants and helped with the layout and design. He has more than 35 years of experience as co-owner of Northwind Perennial Farm located in the rolling hills of southeastern Wisconsin. Roy will be giving two presentations related to his book, The Know Maintenance Garden, as well as talking about the issue of maintenance and how we can apply it to the broader landscape.

Other presentations during the day will include the Green Works Industry Award winner presentations, session on climate change, biophilic design, and a business roundtable forum (back by popular demand!).
